THE EASTERN SITUATION.

While Uncle Sam has been busy with his own affairs, the complications of his eastern contemporaries in the far East seem to have grown apace. Not only are the Russian fleet and British Lion growling and making various kinds of unbecomingly faces at each other, but even the "Hermit Kingdom," the little Korea for whose sake the Japs thrashed the Chinese a short while ago is getting mixed up in the matter. In spite of an absolute protest on the part of the Russian minister to Korea, that government has dismissed Mr. Alexieff, the director of customs, and all of the Russian military instructors doing duty in Korea. In view of the fact that Japan's prejudice and opposition to Russia are plainly apparent in this unexpected action of the Koreans, it is by no means likely that the "Bear's" temper will be improved by the incident. It is also quite apparent that the Japs would not be adverse to measuring strength with Russia or some other great nation if they had a little encouragement.

Their remarkable success in the war with China has given them a slight attack of "swell head," and they are out for other trophies and a larger reputation. Of course England would not object to seeing her ancient enemy mixed up in all kinds of complications with the Japs and Koreans. In fact, it may be that a Japanese-English coalition is standing behind the "Hermit Kingdom."

These possibilities make the situation an extremely critical one, and the progress of affairs will be watched with much interest on this side of the herring pond.

If one may judge from the pictures appearing in the daily newspapers, Consul General Fitzhugh Lee must spend the greater part of his time in the barber's chair. One essential contemporary picture has him with a flowing beard reaching almost to his waist; another gives him a moustache and "imperial," while the third simply gives him a moustache. While reformers and philosophers are organizing societies for the prevention of this and the recalcification of that, it might not be a bad idea for them to organize one looking to uniform pictures in the newspapers. If such a consummation could be reached the reformers accomplishing it would deserve the undying gratitude of a long suffering public which is called upon to accept pictures which would readily represent half a dozen different men as the likeness of one individual.

If there is to be no immediate breach of the peace between Spain and Uncle Sam, it is difficult to understand why the United States should be selecting hospital ships. When preparation reach the hospital ship stage things are beginning to look rocky, to say the least.

A New Jersey man has made seven unsuccessful attempts to "shake off the mortal coil." He should induce one of his friends to point an unloaded pistol at him. If that fails he might as well spike up his mind to live.

TIME TO QUIT THEN.

It is getting a great deal on society," said the minor person. "Do you think it will be?"

"I will last," said the arbuter elegant, "until the last of the newspapers take it up and put it in the same column with prize-fighting, base ball and the like."—Cincinnati Enquirer, yesterday.
